

Aussie Cristina Nitopi to present ready-to-wear collection at NYFW June 24, 2008 (USA)

Australian designer Cristina Nitopi will return to New York Fashion Week to present her latest luxury fashion collection. The fashion show will be held on Sunday, September 7, 2008 in the Majestic Ballroom of the elegant Westin Times Square Hotel, in the heart of the Big Apple.

Cristina Nitopi was born in Sydney Australia but her family originated from Sicily in Italy. Having the advantage of both worlds, Cristina combines both traditional and modern trends in her designs.

Cristina Nitopi was raised in a family fascinated with fashion. Her mother being a talented designer/dress maker, Cristina intends to continue in her foot steps.

Leaving her career in psychology behind, Cristina Nitopi is pursuing her career in fashion to the next level with intentions to conquer New York and Milan fashion weeks.

Cristina's latest ready-to-wear collection represents glamour, style, and sophistication. Suited for men and women who want to make a statement, only the finest high-quality European fabrics and colors are used with soft silk underlinings. Each design has been hand-sewn treated with care for the perfect night out.

Couture Fashion Week

http://www.fibre2fashion.com/news/fashion-news/newsdetails.aspx?news_id=58643