

Jessica Sauer : Andres Aquino is the best of the best

Andrea Selena/Raúl Monge
skyimage@appareltextiles.net

She indicated that “He cast me for his Couture Fashion Week without ever meeting me”; and further added: “He inspired me to be the best. I will always remember him for giving me the chance of a lifetime”, said Sauer to Apparel & Textiles Magazine.

Do you have a certain activity on community service?

"I am an advocate for my older brother that has Autism, so these are the charity works that hold a special place in my heart:

"I speak for those who can

Once again, A & T Magazine, shows the humanitarian side of amazing people within the fashion world.

Photos by Caffrey's Photography/ Mark Matthews.

Make Up and Hair by: Your Beauty Expert

At this time, we are proud to present an interview with top Model Jessica Sauer. Throughout this interview, Jessica reveals her feelings, goals and hopes. She especially talks about those who inspired her to pursue the very difficult, albeit, fascinating career on the runways of Haute Couture.

not speak"---Autism.

"I speak for those who are afraid to speak"--Battered Women & Children.

"I speak for those who have no one to speak to"---The Elderly.

"I just stay out of political things. I just focus on things I can help change. I can give my time to our youths and help mentor and shape them into noble people. I can only show people my strength, love, and courage to live my dream", said Jessica Sauer

How does Jessica Sauer react against social injustice and violence?

"I try not to be angered. I hate violence on women and children. I try to educate them on how to avoid violence"

THANKS JESSICA

What do you think of Apparel & Textiles Magazine?

"I think is it one of the most informational magazines and that it helps me keep up with what is going on in the fashion industry. I love each issue and each model inspires me to be a better person".

Thanks Jessica!!...and best wishes!

"I started doing Fashion Shows for charity...to raise money for animal shelters to help feed them and give them a good home", said Jessica Sauer and added that Andres Aquino is the "best of the best". "My best experience has been just being cast to do Fashion Week and traveling to different countries. I love all of the designers, each designer tells a story about his or her personality with their designs. They are artists", she said.

Sauer refers to Andres Aquino by saying : "He is the best of the best". She indicated that "He cast me for his Couture Fashion Week without ever meeting me"; and further added: "He inspired me to be the best. I will always remember him for giving me the chance of a lifetime".

We asked Jessica about the number of Runways he had worked on. She reflects a moment and remarks : "Way too many to count. I will be turning 18 so I will get to travel across the world. I am really excited about meeting so many people from different cultures."

What projects have you planned for the next five years? Well I am an actress also. I have several films to finish this year. I will still continue my community service as well, and I would love to be in the Mercedes Benz Fashion Week. This is another one of my high goals.

How do you define yourself as a human being? I am a true professional, I love what I do. I respect everyone. I am not a drama queen. I am reliable, honest, and a true person. What you see is what you get.

Sauer thinks there are still violations to Human Rights in the world, and she also added that "There are many. We have come a long way, but there is still a lot to be done yet. I do believe In "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness".

She gives us her point of view of what can be needed to eradicate poverty in Central America and said that "More giving people to volunteer, to donate, to help others help themselves."