Fashion Designer - Andres Aquino

Written by EXO Limited

Fashion designer Andrés Aquino, a native of the Dominican Republic - the land of Oscar de la Renta and Sammy Sosa - is presenting on EXO his latest fashion collection entitled "Journey." Andres Aquino was inspired by the beauty of different regions and cities of the world.

Andres Aquino would like to tribute his creations to all the women around the world. As he says, "this season's creations are of rich French, Japanese and Indian lace, among other fine fabrics, and combine elements of dance and fashion."

His collection is also a complement to Andres' upcoming book of poetry, the theme of which is the continuing journey in the endless pursuit of beauty as his muse. In addition to being the founder and producer of Couture Fashion Week, Andres Aquino is also a very talented writer and fine arts photographer.

Aquino combine lines, shapes, colors and textures in order to strongly present his innovative style. He is well known as a inspiring couture designer of the world. With thoughtful design, his line was beyond satisfying and certainly quenching to those thirsty for worldly fashion.

The talented designer is also known for his amazing skills as a poet, writer, actor, director, manager, dreamer and artist.

EXO will be bringing you a one-on-one with Andres Aquino very soon. You do not want to miss this!
