

Nedret Taciroglu gives you Parisian verve via the Casbah.

By Scallywag • Feb 17th, 2009 • Category: Fashion

Photography by Seana Cavanagh.

Catching Turkey's Nedret's show at the Waldorf Astoria was an unexpected treat and foray into old world charm and the refined sensibilities one would expect whilst taking a stroll along Boulevard St. Germain des Pres. With Amy Winehouse blazing away in the background Nedret had his girls effusing in silver bullet frocks, flapper hats and ostrich feather.

Perhaps not as sleek as some of the other houses (or as we would have preferred) we were certainly encouraged by the moody ambience and the notion that imagination and attention to detail, fishnet head scarves, and the translucent attempts to affect a high society tea party. A tea party we would certainly be game to join, with Beaujolais and our cigarettes at Café de Flore.

© 2009 |Scallywagandvagabond

<http://scallywagandvagabond.com/2009/02/nedret-taciroglu-gives-you-parisian-verve-via-the-casbah/>